Even though you're only here...

...you can learn from all the way back here...

...and teach all the way
up to here.

You!

“My generation had to learn by heart the names of the most significant mountains, moors, fjords. So culturally it's also referring back to childhood textbooks. The world that we learned how it was, learned by heart as some kind of eternal fact, is not a fact any more.”

A letter to the future

Ok is the first Icelandic glacier to lose its status as a glacier

In the next 200 years all our glaciers are expected to follow the same path.

This monument is to acknowledge that we know what is happening and what needs to be done.

Only you know if we did it.

THE WATER, THE LOVER

The Water, The Lover is both a studio album and a performative concert with seven compositions that explore a new mythology of kinship with glaciers. The Egg, The Mermaid, The String, The Human, The Mirror, The Phoenix and The Source are myths and archetypal stories that nourish an intimacy with water bodies and feed the sensuous universes of intuition and ancestral memory.

Néfur composed and produced The Water, The Lover using her field recordings of Icelandic glaciers in combination with her voice. She recorded sounds of glaciers between 2021 and 2023 in Snaefellsjökull, Solheimajökull, Vatnajökull, Ok -the first Icelandic glacier to be lost- and Langjökull.

- ▶ Anthropomorphism of nature refers to assignment of human qualities to nature.
- ▶ 3 experiments examine how anthropomorphism affects people's relation and behavior toward nature.
- ▶ Anthropomorphism fosters conservation behavior, and enhances connectedness to nature.
- ▶ Connectedness to nature mediates the link between anthropomorphism and conservation behavior.
- ▶ These findings contribute to anthropomorphism research and environmental psychology.
